

PUPPY

Fall POST 2026

We have so much candy! Let's sort it. This is our "keep" pile, for us to snack on.

And this can be the pile that goes to our dentist's Halloween Candy Buyback.

This pile is for donations to Treats for Troops and Ronald McDonald House.

Hey, what's that fourth pile?

crunch crunch
Uhm, quality control.
crunch crunch

Turn the page for candy math, sweet jokes, and a very suspicious page for your parents about giving candy away. Wait, we get paid? Oh, and it helps kids and soldiers. Okay. I'm listening.

CANDY CASH COUNT!

Bill and Penny sorted their Halloween candy. Buck may have sampled some of it. Help count each pile and discover how much it's worth.

Candy Corn = 1¢

Lollipop = 5¢

Gummy Pack = 10¢

Chocolate Bar = 25¢

How much is the donate pile worth? _____

How much is the buyback pile worth? _____

How much is the keep pile worth? _____

Which pile is worth the most? _____

Keep

Buyback

Donate

Bonus: Buck sneaks a chocolate bar from the buyback pile. How much is it worth now? _____

These Halloween candy puns are meant to be shared. Cut them out, tell them to family over dinner, leave them for friends to find, and watch them all crack up.

LET'S GO WITH HALLOWEEN CANDY PUNS

Why did the candy go to school?

It wanted to be a Smartie.

What's a vampire's favorite candy?

A sucker.

What is a ghost's favorite candy?

Boo-ble gum.

What's a Jack-o-lantern's favorite candy?

Jolly Ranchers.

Why didn't the skeleton eat any candy?

He didn't have the stomach for it.

Why does Dracula like Skittles?

Because he can taste the "veinbow."

Who checks the little monsters Halloween candy?

Their mummy, to make sure it's all wrapped.

What do space aliens give out for Halloween.

Mars bars.

What kind of candy is never on time?

Choco-late.

What is a zombies favorite Halloween candy?

Dum-Dums!

Puppy Trainers

A Guide for Teaching Kids About Money

Turn Halloween Treats into Smart Choices

Halloween is full of fun, costumes, and of course... lots of candy. It's also the perfect opportunity to help kids learn about saving, selling, and sharing. Use this sugar-filled season as a real-world money lesson they'll actually enjoy.

Save: Encourage kids to set aside their favorite treats to enjoy later. It teaches delayed gratification and helps them practice making thoughtful choices instead of impulse decisions.

Sell: Have extra candy? Turn it into earnings! Many local orthodontists, dentists, and community organizations offer candy buyback programs and some pay as much as $1 per pound. Ask around your neighborhood or check with your child's dental office to see who is participating this year.

Share: Giving feels great and Halloween candy can brighten someone else's day. Consider donating to trusted organizations such as:

- Treats for Troops (soldiersangels.org)
- Ronald McDonald House Charities (ronaldmcdonaldhouse.org)
- Operation Shoebox (operationshoebox.com)
- Local food banks or shelters

These groups happily accept individually wrapped treats and distribute them to people who could use a little extra sweetness.

Make it Count.

Encourage your child to be an active participant in deciding which treats to save, sell, or share. When they choose to sell candy, bring their earnings to their local DFCU Financial so they can deposit their money and build smart financial habits early.

COUPON

Deposit $5 into your kid account and receive a flexi-pencil for free. One prize per member. Must redeem coupon in person.

NAME _____

ACCOUNT# _____

Answers from page 2 – Donate: 85¢ • Buyback: $1.54 • Keep: $1.29 • Worth most: Buyback • Bonus: $1.29