Bill, your scarecrow looks paw-some! Did it cost a lot to make?

Those jeans?

Is that my flannel shirt?

And why is the scarecrow wearing such a weird fur hat?

Boo!

Oh my, Buck! You're the hat?

Oh, Bill and Buck. You two are so silly. But you really saved so much money building your scarecrow with things you borrowed.

Nah, I just used things I found lying around.

My Dad won't mind.

Well, you weren't wearing it.

Do you want to go to DFCU Financial with me and deposit the money we saved?

That sounds spooktacular!

Hey there, superstars. Flip to the next page to dive into some coin counting and giggle at some jokes. What are you waiting for? Let's pounce into more Halloween fun!

Costume Coin Count

Bill and Penny have been super busy selling their old, spooky Halloween costumes. Now, they've got a pile of coins waiting to be counted. They're planning a trip to DFCU Financial to deposit their money, but they need your counting skills first!

Instructions

- Look at each costume on the worksheet. You'll see coins next to them.
- Count the coins for each costume to see how much money it sold for.
- Write the total amount of money on the line next to each costume.

Are you ready? Ready, set, pounce into action!

Have Fun!

HAY! THAT'S FUNNY!

NEW WORD: What is a pun? A pun is a type of joke that makes a play on words. It usually involves using a word that sounds similar to another word, but has a different meaning, to create a funny phrase. For example, "What did the pumpkin say to the pumpkin carver? Cut it out."!

Hey there! Are you ready for some corn-y fun? Share these awesome scarecrow puns with your friends and family for a good laugh.

What's a scarecrow's favorite fruit? Straw-berries!

Why couldn't the scarecrow sky dive? He didn't have the guts.

Why did the scarecrow win an award? Because he was outstanding in his field!

Why couldn't the scarecrow finish dinner? He was stuffed.

What does the scarecrow use to style his hair on Halloween? Scare-spray.

Why does the scarecrow love Halloween? It's the most wonderful time of the fear.

How does a scarecrow fix rips and tears? He uses a pumpkin patch.

What did the scarecrow say on October 31st? Oh, my gourdness – it's finally Halloween!

A Guide for Teaching Kids About Money

Raising Money-Savvy Kids: There's an App for That!

Are you trying to figure out the best way to introduce the concept of money, saving, and spending to your children? Well, your smartphone and digital devices might have a few great solutions. That's why we're diving into some awesome apps today that are all about making financial learning fun and engaging for kids.

1. Chores and Allowance Bot:

This app makes it easy for parents to manage kids' chores and allowances. With fun features like personalized avatars and photos for each chore, it keeps kids engaged while teaching financial responsibility. The app syncs across all devices, offers advanced reminders, and even tracks savings and spending goals.

2. Bankaroo: The First Step to Financial Independence

Bankaroo is like a virtual bank designed for kids. They can manage their own money, track savings, and even earn by completing chores. It's a fun, interactive way for them to get a taste of financial responsibility.

3. Greenlight: The Kid-Friendly Debit Card

Greenlight gives your kids their own debit card, but with you overseeing everything. Set limits, allocate money for different uses, and keep an eye on their spending. It's like giving them a bit of freedom, with a safety net.

4. FamZoo: Finance Made Family-Friendly

FamZoo is all about teaching kids money management through real-life practice. With features like family bank accounts, chore tracking, and budgeting tools, it's a one-stop app for financial literacy.

These apps provide a fun and interactive way for kids to learn about money management, while also giving you the tools you need to supervise and guide your children's financial habits. Look them up and see if they will work for you and your children.
